What you need to know

Gold has been used for thousands of years as a currency, and it has an incredible history of consistent value. Even with all that heritage and history, you may not have made the decision to start investing in gold yet.

Since gold has such an impressive and stable history of value, you will have peace of mind if you have set some aside for a spouse, a child or a dependent for the future. Gold can also be incorporated into trusts or wills and thus be included easily into an inheritance.
